

09 November 2004

Fijians are extremely good infantry soldiers and highly valued by the army for their strength and bravery. Fijians have a long military history in the UK and have been fighting alongside the British troops for more than a century.

Click here to read more.